DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The Abstract should have been modified to reflect the claimed system invention.

Drawings

2. Figures 7-8 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-2, 5-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The scope of the claims is not clear because the claims directed to a system however claims recitation limitation other than the system such as cable that operatively associated with the system and the cable configuration such as U shape, and the operation functions as recited in each of the dependent claims, such as where cable bent back in U shape; see claim 6, head rotate around and move along the axis, etc. which does not further limit the claimed system.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-2 and 5 and 6-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Yokoyama et al (JP 9-321488).

Yokoyama et al discloses the cable installation system comprising the following structural elements.

a drive pulley 4 that rotates integrally with the head, a driven pulley 5 situated at one side of the drive pulley (see Figs. 1 and 6);

a guide belt (6) stretched over the drive pulley (4) and the driven pulley (5); and a guide member placed substantially in parallel with the guide belt between the drive pulley and the driven pulley, the one end of the cable being fixedly attached to a part of the guide belt that is always in contact with the drive pulley when the head rotates, the other end of the cable being fixedly attached to the guide member, (see Figs 4 and 6 and the Discussed at the abstract).

Note: regarding the “the cable being bent in U shape at the midpoint, and extended along the guide belt on one side and along the guide member on the other side” this does not further limit the claimed device since the cable is not a part of the claimed apparatus.

Limitation of claim 5 appears to be satisfied by the above discussion.

As applied to claim 2, (see Fig. 1 depict the cable as coil being wrapped around the pulley 4).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 2, 6-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yokoyama et al. Since no structural different between the claimed invention compare to the prior art therefore, the operation and functions recited in the above mentioned between are seemed to be met by the reference above because the cables are not a part of the claimed device. Furthermore, It would have been an obvious at he time of the invention was made to utilize the process of making cables assembly by using the system as provided by the Yokoyama et al in order to process cable as well as tube like in an effectively and efficiently manner (see Figs. 1, 6 and 10 of the reference).

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
